

STATUE OF GEN. GRANT

General Sherman Says it Will be Unveiled at the Next Meeting of the Army of the Tennessee.

THE MC KINLEY BILL HAS ANOTHER DAY IN THE HOUSE.

Several Amendments Offered by the Minority and Rejected by the Majority—Capital News.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—After the reading of the journal Mr. McKinley of Ohio moved that speeches in general debate on the tariff bill be limited to one minute. The absence of a quorum rendered a call of the House necessary. A quorum appearing, the motion was agreed to (after two roll-calls), and the House went into committee of the whole. Mr. Payne of Illinois in the chair on the tariff bill.

As the result of the vote the tariff bill was taken up under the five-minute rule. Mr. Anderson offered an amendment authorizing the President to suspend the duty on any article when he may be convinced the production of said article is controlled by any trust or combination to govern prices or production.

Mr. McMillin advocated the amendment, but expressed his belief that it would not be agreed to. He then made an attack upon trusts and combines, and said that nothing would be done against them as long as the Republican party was in the majority in the House.

Mr. Grosvenor said the talk about trusts did not look well when the Congress failed to do anything against them, but on the contrary the head of the greatest trust in the country came here and went into the ways and means committee and saw that the sugar feature of the bill was changed to the great benefit of the trust.

Mr. Mills excitedly replied that the statement was false, and that the sugar feature of the bill was changed to the great benefit of the trust.

Mr. Grosvenor—We now hear again the old plantation slogan. [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. McMillin denied that any representative of the sugar trust had ever appeared before the committee, and in reply to a direct question by Mr. Grosvenor said: "I have no knowledge that Mr. Havermeyer was in the committee room or in Washington the day before or at any time preceding the change in the sugar schedule."

Mr. McMillin then asked how sugar trust certificates had risen $10,000,000 since the McKinley bill was reported.

Mr. Grosvenor retorted that he would like to know how the trust was formed there where was a Democratic majority in the House.

Mr. Mills replied that the sugar trust and the sugar trust were formed under Republican tariff laws.

Mr. Grosvenor asked if it were not true that the ways and means committee of the Fifty-third Congress changed its sugar schedule the day following the visit of Mr. Havermeyer of New York.

Mr. McMillin said the schedule was never changed in consequence of any visit of Mr. Havermeyer. So far as he knew Mr. Havermeyer did not visit the committee or any members of it.

Mr. Mills said he was sorry anything of a personal character had been brought in. He did not intend to attack any gentleman of the majority of the ways and means committee had been approached improperly.

Mr. McKinley made the same disclaimer concerning the majority of the committee of the last House. [Applause.]

Mr. Mills said the present bill gave the sugar trust no more than was allowed it by the bill of the last Congress.

Several amendments of minor importance were offered by the minority and in turn rejected by the majority.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Mr. Hoar from the judiciary committee, reported back the House amendment to the Senate anti-trust bill, with an amendment.

Messrs. Vest and Hoar, the two members of the committee they did not concur in the report, and Mr. Hoar explained the effect of the action recommended. The matter went over till tomorrow.

The Senate bill to fix the times and places for holding Federal courts in the district of Kansas was reported by Mr. Ingalls from the judiciary committee, and was passed.

The Senate bill appropriating $300,000 for a building at Ogden, Utah, was reported and placed on the calendar.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill authorizing the issue of treasury notes on deposits of silver bullion.

Mr. Jones of Nevada, who reported the bill from the Committee on Finance, addressed the Senate.

enter they would exhibit their goods, otherwise not. The conditions for foreign exhibits were far more favorable now than at Philadelphia in 1876.

Comptroller Matthews' Rejuvenement.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—First Comptroller of the Treasury Matthews, who has been on a visit to a sick grandchild in Pittsburg, Ill., returned to Washington Monday, and was shocked to find a message telling of the child's death. He has returned to Pittsburg.

Again Postponed.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The meeting of the Executive committee, which was to have been held here Monday, has again been postponed, this time indefinitely. The reason given for the postponement is the absence of First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson.

JUDGE SABIN PASSES AWAY.

The Nevada Jurist Dies in San Francisco of Stomach Disorder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 13.—Judge Sabin of the United States District court for Nevada died at the Palace hotel yesterday. Judge Sabin had been ill only about two weeks, and it had been only the last few days that he was unable to take a serious turn. At the beginning of his illness he suffered from rheumatic gout and stomach disorder.

Later the complaint refused to perform its functions, and he gradually grew weaker and passed away quietly.

Judge Sabin was a native of Ohio and born fifty-six years ago. After graduating from the law, he came to Nevada at Hudson, Ohio, he removed to Madison, Wis., where he was admitted to the bar. Judge Sabin served throughout the war and attained the rank of colonel. He served for a time as assistant adjutant-general of the army, and after the Vicksburg campaign was made judge advocate.

After the war he removed to Nevada, locating at Eureka, where he formed a law partnership with W. W. Bishop. In 1881 he was appointed United States district judge for Nevada and spent some time assisting the United States judge at San Francisco. Judge Sabin was never married. He leaves a sister-in-law in this city and a nephew and niece in Portland, Ore.

BODY BLOW AT PROHIBITION.

Judge Crozier Finds Unconstitutional a Clause in the Kansas Law.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 13.—Judge Crozier of the first judicial district of Kansas, has rendered a decision declaring part of the State prohibition law unconstitutional. The decision was rendered in a case where the assistant attorney-general of the State for this county summoned Street Commissioner Dennis Ryan and others before him to give information under oath as to violations of the prohibition law.

Ryan and the others refused to give any information, and the assistant attorney-general had them committed to jail for contempt. Habeas corpus proceedings to secure their release were begun before Judge Crozier, who handed down a lengthy decision ordering their discharge from custody. In the decision the judge pronounced unconstitutional the provision of the law conferring power upon the attorney-general and his assistants to summon persons before them to testify as to violations of the law so that they can issue an indictment against the persons so informed on, as it is an attempt to confer judicial power upon a prosecuting officer.

The decision gives great comfort to liquor men and resumptionists here, who are preparing to make a determined fight this fall for the repeal of the prohibition law.

CYCLONE IN MISSOURI.

The State Capitol Partly Unroofed—Great Damage to Property in Other Parts.

FATE OF CASTAWAY SAILORS ON THE NEW HEBRIDES.

Some Were Drowned and Others Were Tomahawked by the Savage Natives—Casualties.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Late advice says that in the great storm of March 4 the schooner Eliza Mary was driven on the reefs at Mallico in the New Hebrides. It was impossible to see anything through the blinding rain till just before the vessel struck. There were on board a crew of eighteen, two passengers, forty-four recruits, and fifteen returning laborers, making a total of seventy-five men. The first boat which was lowered was manned by four white men and several of the black crew. The boat was dashed to pieces while going on shore and the four white men were drowned. Those who remained on board ship were saved. Several of the recruits swam from the shore and were either drowned or killed after landing. One boy had to fight his way on shore to the mission station, ten miles off. He, with twenty of his companions, went with some natives to a village near the coast, where they were given food, but while eating the savages set upon them and began tomahawking the castaways. The boy ran and escaped. In all, four white men and forty-seven blacks were lost.

CYCLONE AT JEFFERSON CITY.

The State House Partly Unroofed and Other Buildings Wrecked.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 13.—A terrible hurricane, accompanied by an extraordinary fall of rain, swept over this city yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The wind blew at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour and the rain fell in torrents. A large section of the roof of the State house was blown off and the offices below were deluged with water.

The roof of the penitentiary hospital was blown away and much inconvenience was caused to the patients. A heavy area of stone on the top of the rear wall of St. Patrick's cathedral was lifted off. It crashed through the roof to the basement below, wrecked the altar, and ruined the sacristy.

Small houses all over town were demolished, and much damage was done to trees and shrubbery. In the country north of here many barns were demolished and miles of fences were leveled to the ground. No lives were lost in this city, and so far as reported no loss of life occurred in the track of the storm.

AT LEAST THIRTY PERISHED.

Mysterious Reticence of the Coroner Regarding the Chenango Horror.

NEW YORK, May 13.—A special from Norwich, N. Y., says that notwithstanding the mysterious reticence of the coroner and the keepers and superintendent of the burned Chenango county poor house at Preston, persons in a position to know say that at least thirty patients perished. It is said that not one inmate out of the twenty bedridden escaped. Superintendent Babcock has stated to the board of supervisors, who are investigating the matter, that, as all the records were destroyed, it was impossible to get at the exact number of the missing before next Tuesday. There seems to have been gross carelessness about the security and management of the unfortunate people, and it now looks as if investigation would justify the prediction now made as to the number of victims, and that perhaps a worse state of affairs will be revealed than is now dreamed of.

FATAL RAILROAD WRECK.

Fallen Rock in a Tunnel Caused One Man's Death.

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., May 13.—A train drawn by two engines was wrecked yesterday on entering Morrissey tunnel, near here, by striking a large mass of rock which had fallen from the roof of the tunnel.

The second engine telescoped the forward one, tearing out one side. Freeman Angus Gorham was instantly killed and Engineer McNutt was seriously injured. The men in the second engine escaped uninjured.

FIVE TRAINMEN KILLED.

Awful Result of a Collision Between Freight Trains Near Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 13.—One engineer, two firemen and two brakemen were killed by the collision of two freight trains on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad at a tunnel four miles from here this morning. The accident was caused by a misunderstanding of running orders.

A Brave Boy.

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., May 13.—A small dwelling occupied by a family named Wynn burned early this morning. A 13-year-old boy named William Wynn, the present incumbent, Mr. Turner was before the convention, and there were five other candidates. It took two days to organize the convention and two days to reach a nomination. Eighty ballots were taken, the final ballot standing: McNall, 61; Turner, 43.

THE MODERN METHUSELAH.

A Patagonian Indian One Hundred and Ninety-Three Years Old.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press at Everett, Pa., writes to that paper as follows: "During my stay in Chili, where I was employed as the superintendent of a silver mine near Huasco, I came in contact with an Indian who was found, after careful investigation, to be at least 193 years old. His name is Jolopina Hapolo. The miners call him Hercules. Hapolo was born in the southern part of Patagonia, and is a perfect type of the Patagonian Indian, being 6 feet 8 inches in height. He is of very heavy build, his voice is remarkably sonorous, and his hair, now white, reaches far down his back, and is very coarse. For about fifty years this Indian worked in the copper region, and he also worked in the silver mines for twenty-five years. He has learned to speak the Spanish language. Men that knew him fifty years ago say that he could make a running leap of thirty feet with much ease, and many are the tales of his strength. Old native Indians say that their grandfathers have spoken of him as being old in their youth. Some of the oldest Spanish settlers in the region remember him to have been gray-haired when, seventy-five years ago, he, with about sixty or seventy other Patagonians, was induced to come and work in the copper mines. Hapolo says he can remember a Spanish Catholic missionary named Alonzo who traveled through Patagonia. It has been found that this was in the years 1748-49. The first and largest part of his life he was uncivilized, obtaining his living by the chase."

Poverty an Incentive to Pride.

I have a great many things said in my time against poverty, says a writer in the Boston Post, but never till the other day, when a clever woman made the suggestion, did it occur to me that poverty tends to make a man conceited. Her argument was as follows: A poor man has to earn his living, and the mere fact that he does so leads him to think highly of himself, whereas, the rich man who lives on the interest of money originally made by an ancestor near or remote, makes no living, is not even certain that he could make one, and consequently remains in a humble, or at least in a modest, state of mind.

VERY MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

A Supposed Victim of a Drug Administered by Adam Fry.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Thomas E. Kelly was found dead in his room at the Leland hotel at 324 South Clark street at 3 o'clock this morning. When found his body was lying on the floor and near by was a paper that had contained morphine. Kelly had been stopping at the Leland for some time and retired to his room at 9 o'clock Saturday night. He frequently slept until late his absence at breakfast Sunday morning excited no alarm.

Shortly after noon James M. Renshaw passed Kelly's room and saw Kelly on the floor, apparently asleep. When, however, at 1 o'clock this morning Renshaw again saw Kelly in his room, and his position unchanged, he attempted to arouse him and found the body cold and stiff in death.

The police are suspicious of foul play and arrested Ed. Fry, the porter in the hotel, and locked him up at the armory pending an investigation by the coroner. Fry says that at the request of Kelly he purchased 25 cents' worth of morphine Saturday night. The police are of the opinion that Fry administered the lotion in doses larger than Kelly asked for. Fry denies that he did.

FIERCE BATTLE ON THE PLAINS.

Five Farmers Killed in Oklahoma in a Fight With Cattlemen.

OKLAHOMA CITY, I. T., May 13.—A desperate battle between Chickasaw cattlemen and Oklahoma farmers has taken place on the South Canadian river, about seventeen miles from this point. Five farmers were killed outright and several badly wounded.

The farmers have adopted a herd law among themselves and are farming without fencing their crops. The cattlemen drove their herds over the river from the Chickasaw country, the farmers resisted, and bloodshed followed.

A number of cowboys were wounded, and as they fled to the Chickasaw Nation, no information about them has yet been obtained.

The account of the fight which was brought here is meager, but it is asserted that the cowboys first opened fire. Marshals are in pursuit.

NEW ATTRACTIONS!

FOR THIS WEEK!

Yes!

That is What we Said.

Janesville is good enough for us. It is too good for most people.

A few of the bargains in our hands today are as follows:

The Henry Crane home on Center avenue; house in splendid repair, containing 13 rooms, good barn, large lot. We will sell at not over 75 cents on the dollar of its actual value.

The Treat place, corner Linn and North streets. One double house, one single house and Mr. Treat's own home all on two fine lots. You can buy this at a price which will surely pay you an advance, and rent 10 per cent. for next five years and then sell at a large advance.

161 South Franklin street, at a price that will pay you to own it either to rent or as a home.

Then, the Dr. Wm. H. Judd home, 104 North Bluff street. You can't duplicate for the money any where within four blocks of this location.

Here is a "bang up" business lot, North Main street, just opposite the Windsor Hotel, 42 feet front; will sell at $10 per foot less than it is worth today.

These properties are good enough for us; good enough for either home seekers or speculators, and why on earth any person ever leaves Janesville to buy property to make money, is one of the "things no fellow can find out."

Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

WHOOHING THINGS UP.

Drunkards Men and Boys Swarm the Streets of Racine Saturday Night and Sunday.

It appears that the season men over in Racine intend to make the most of their recent victory at the polls. Last month a new mayor was elected who is opposed to the rigid enforcement of the temperance laws. The following from the Racine Journal of last evening, explains, "During the past forty-eight hours things have been whooped up in this city to a degree not known before in years. It looked as if men and boys tied with each other in an attempt to ascertain who could drink the largest quantity of beer and whisky and get the drunkest. They started in early on Saturday night and when the midnight hour sounded the streets were filled with intoxicated individuals and many of them were minors not over sixteen years of age. Everything was wide open, and the yelling and singing of the crazed youths was audible for blocks, as they rolled and tumbled along from one place to another. These drunken orgies continued all night long and during the Sabbath and last night, and it can be estimated that there were two hundred drunken individuals on different thoroughfares of the city, and shooting, fighting, cursing, yelling and other unwholesome demonstrations prevailed. The unusual amount of drunkenness has been the topic in business circles to-day, and the question is asked, 'Where do the young boys get their liquor?' It is a difficult problem to solve, and one that able officers must ascertain.

KILLED FOR 40 CENTS.

Oliver W. Olson Refuses to Pay for Drinks and is Struck Dead by One Blow.

Oliver W. Olson, a Norwegian aged about 45 years, was killed for 40 cents in a saloon known as the New Deal, on North street, La Crosse, on Saturday afternoon. A special dispatch to the Milwaukee Sentinel gives the following details: A blow of the bar-keeper's fist on Olson's neck did the work. The proprietor, C. A. Hunt, went off to a picnic and William Rowley, engineer at Davidson's lower mill, was left in charge for the afternoon. Rowley and Hunt are friends, and several times the former has worked after business hours when Hunt was absent. About an hour after Rowley took charge Olson and a young Norwegian friend came in and called for beer, asking Rowley to drink with them. Then Hunt proposed to shake dice with two other men standing at the bar. Olson lost and all had drinks, amounting, with the first round, to 40 cents. Olson wanted to shake again but Rowley wouldn't permit until the bill was paid. In a few minutes Olson started to go out; the barkeeper asked him to pay the bill and he laughed and said he wouldn't pay it. Rowley came out of the bar and struck him a blow on the nose, which knocked him against the wall. He straightened up and Rowley struck him again in the neck. He dropped as though shot through the heart. Water was applied to his face, but after a moment one of the men said: "Bill, I guess he's dead." Rowley went out of the back door, walked to his boarding house, two miles distant, had a talk with the landlord about what had occurred, then started out on foot in a northerly direction, but was overtaken by officers before he had gone a mile and is now in jail. He is 38 years old, a fairly well educated and intelligent man. His parents reside at Delavan, Wis., and are quite aged.

WISCONSIN SUGAR BEETS.

Free Analysis of Sugar Beet at the Experiment Station.

To the Editor.

The subject of sugar production from the beet is, very properly, attracting considerable attention at this time, and many of our farmers are desirous of ascertaining whether their soil and local conditions are suitable to the growth of beets rich in sugar. This is a most important topic, and the first that should be looked into considering the subject of producing sugar from the beet. In order to help the cause along, the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station offers to make analyses of sugar beets grown within the state, which may be sent to it next fall, free of charge. Seed can doubtless yet be obtained on application to J. M. Roek, Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and may be planted any time up to June 1st. Seed should be planted in good garden soil, in drills 18 inches apart, the plants to stand about every 6 inches in the row. Large beets are not suitable for sugar production; the most desirable specimens weigh only about 1 pound each.

OUTRAGEOUS SWINDLE.

Which is Being Perpetrated Upon Farmers in the Country.

Racine Journal: An outrageous swindle has been going on in Milwaukee. Waukesha and Fond du Lac counties the past month and the swindlers are working this way. It will behoove farmers to look out for them. Two young men are riding through the country and selling cloth to farmers upon the representation that if they would call at a certain place in town it would be made up for them free of cost, and on Friday, hats would be given away besides. The first case was reported two weeks ago, and to Fond du Lac five young Norwegian came in with bundles, looking for some firm that has no existence. They usually invest about $10 in the scheme.

SHIPPING OF FRUITS.

The Immense Trade in Bananas, Oranges and Melons Through Chicago Dealers.

ONE THOUSAND CAR LOADS OF GEORGIA MELONS.

Figures Showing the Wonderful Growth of the Fruit Business in the Far South.

One feature of railroad traffic, says the Chicago Evening Post, has been developed very rapidly of late to which very little general attention has been paid, and which, in fact, the public has little or no knowledge. This is connected with the southern fruit trade, of which Chicago is now getting a large share, this city being the distributing point for the west and north as well as for the states immediately east of us, including Indiana, Michigan and a good portion of Ohio. In speaking of this growing trade Mr. Hartwell Osborn, contracting freight agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railway, said: "The project of bringing fruit from Florida to Chicago was started about 1880, but since that time the facilities have greatly increased, until now there are two lines of railway, well equipped and making good time, engaged in the trade. These three are the Louisville & Nashville, the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia and the Illinois Central. In the winter they handle the orange business, in the spring vegetables and fruit and in the summer melons. It is only within the last two or three years that the different lines have, as you might say, merged themselves into three distinct lines, so as to make absolutely fast time. What is known as the Plant system, including the Savannah, Florida & Western Railway, the Charleston & Savannah Railway, the Brunswick & Western Railway, the South Florida Railway, and several steamship lines connected with them, has gone into this trade. Their idea is to take the fruit from Florida and deliver it to the eastern and western states. They have it all developed that system by extending it from the port of Tampa through to Cuba and the West Indies and South American ports. "Bananas are brought direct from the West Indies. That trade is in competition with the New Orleans market and has some slight advantage in the way of cheaper steamship travel. The time from Tampa to Chicago is far less than from New Orleans and the business promises to be a permanent one and to be an important addition to the resources of Chicago in the fruit line, because a little later in the season oranges can be brought from Jamaica and the West Indies to be followed, it is hoped, by shipments of other tropical fruits and coffee. The crop of oranges shipped to the northwest has increased from three hundred or four hundred cars to one thousand cars in the season, and the melon business has also largely increased. The crop marketed last year from Georgia points amounted to nearly eight thousand cars of melons, a large proportion of which came west. The crop this year promises to be equally large. Chicago is the distributing point for the southern fruit for the west and northwest, and it is rapidly becoming the largest distributing point in this whole section of the country. I have a telegram here showing that it is taking over one-half of all the shipments, the other half being distributed among a great many points. I expect to see this trade with Chicago amount to 5,000 cars in the season, the average value per car being, say $100, so that the trade will amount to $500,000 a season, which for one simple industry is quite an item.

ELEVEN SONS IN THE WAR.

The Mother Draws a Pension—One of the Brothers Living at Beloit.

Residing near Beloit is Lieut. S. B. Merchant, who was one of eleven brothers to do gallant service during the war, and whose mother was granted a pension by congress on a special bill because she had sent so many sons to her country's defense. There was, it is claimed, no other such case in the history of the war. The brothers in the war and the commands in which they enlisted were: G. W. Merchant, company C, Seventy-fourth Illinois; A. L. company C, Fifty-fourth Illinois; Enoch, company F, One Hundred and Fifty-sixth Illinois; S. B., company G, Forty-fourth Illinois; A. J., company G, Forty-fourth Illinois; Aaron, company G, Fifteenth Wisconsin; N. M., United States cavalry; J. B., teamster quartermaster department.

Each of the brothers who survived received an honorable discharge. One was killed at Island No. 10; one at Atlanta, and one died at home on a sick furlough. Two were wounded, and Mr. Merchant, of Beloit, was crippled for life. Seven are alive to-day, and are scattered in the northwest. The mother still lives in Iowa. She lived at Rockford, Ill., when her boys enlisted. The father died before the war.

THE CINCH CLUB.

They Were Entertained Last Evening by Miss Jessie Ziegler.

Last evening the Cinch Club met with Miss Jessie Ziegler, at her home on Park Place, third ward. It was agreed by all who attended to be the best meeting of the club for a long time back. About twenty-five members and a few friends of the club were present and the hour flew fast. Progressive Clich was the principal amusement, and prize were won by Miss Marion Bostwick and Mr. M. P. Richardson. Miss Laura McKinney and Mr. D. K. King captured booty prizes. After the supremacy at the card tables was settled, the company sat down to a elegant inn. When the party dispersed many were here to regret the fact that the pleasant meetings of the club were ended.

REMOVED TO DARIEN.

A Friendly Demonstration—Expressing Thanks.

To the Editor.

In order to let the public and our friends know that I and my family have moved from Johnston to Darien, please insert the following few lines in your valuable paper and oblige.

I wish to express our thanks and gratitude to our kind friends and neighbors of Johnston for the demonstration they made of their kind feelings toward us, inviting us to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Cogswell on the evening of April 26th, where they have a large and commodious house well adapted for a large gathering. I must say that we were happily disappointed to meet so many of our old friends and neighbors to the number of one hundred and fifty or more. Many of those old friends we have been associated with for years, and the thoughts of leaving the immediate neighborhood and old friends made our hearts heavy; and still the thought of a large and friendly gathering, and the presentation to my wife and myself with two beautiful rocking chairs very fine and elegant, leaves a kindly and lasting remembrance of those friends which time can never efface.

We are now nicely settled in our new home in Darien which is a nice busy little town, and have named the community after the very fine people and have no doubt we shall be pleased with our residence here.

We shall be pleased to see our old Johnston friends here at any time and they will always find our latch string hanging out.

NELSON COLE.

HE GOT A TELEGRAM.

And Responded With Alacrity to Find it was a Huge Joke.

One evening a few days ago a young professional man of this city attended a card party at the home of a friend. He was very much interested in a game of chess which was being played. When the bell was answered a boy handed in a telegram for the professional man. It was from a Chicago gentleman whose name was unfamiliar to the p. m., and asked him to meet him at the 9:00 vestibule train. The p. m. played cards until the last minute, and then started for the depot on a run. As he walked up the platform about five minutes before train time, he was greeted by two young ladies, who showed much surprise at seeing him there and asked him the cause of his sudden appearance. He told them the circumstances, and it is said that they yet they think how they got even with him for a joke played on them. When he came back he was a bought-a-box-of-sandy-for-a-d-ill expression, and says he was lucky that he did not have to pay the boy half a dollar to get a thirty word bogus dispatch.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Proceedings at the Special Meeting of the Commissioners Last Evening.

THE TAX LEVY REDUCED EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Prof. F. W. Cooley Elected City Superintendent—Other Appointments—School Matters.

The board of education held a special meeting at the council chamber last evening, at which all the members were present except Commissioner McElroy. President Fethers presided.

Clerk Barnham read an estimate of the probable expense of the coming school year, placing the amount in round numbers at $28,000, this sum including repairs estimated at $5,000, principally at the high school building. The matter of expense and repairs was thoroughly discussed, and a resolution was adopted asking the common council to appropriate the sum of $10,000 for support of the city school the coming year was introduced by Com. Metcalf.

The introduction of this resolution by the republicans was a genuine surprise to the democratic portion of the board, as it cut down the appropriation of last year eight thousand dollars, at the same time providing for all necessary repairs, including five or six thousand dollars of the high school building. Com. Wilson has since the clerk had made a mistake, the clerk answered by reading him the figures, and asking the gentleman from the fifth ward to name the mistake. The resolution was adopted, all voting aye.

The question of heating and ventilating the high school building was next considered. All agreed it was in a deplorable condition and almost criminal to allow the occupancy of some of the rooms. All agreed that there should be some radical changes made in the heating and ventilating arrangements. The manner of doing it appeared to puzzle all alike. It was estimated that a thorough system of ventilation and heating would necessitate an outlay of some six or seven thousand dollars. The matter was finally referred to the building committee, with instruction to have the ventilating and hot air flues of the building thoroughly examined by some competent person, and to report the result of their examination at the next meeting of the board.

The board then, on motion of Commissioner Metcalf, proceeded to the election of city superintendent, excluding all outsiders.

The name of Prof. F. W. Cooley was proposed, only one ballot was taken, four votes being cast for Prof. Cooley
